CJGA Short Game Schools

The short game is the most important part of any competitor's games and is usually the most overlooked. This 3 hour intensive short game school will consist of several cutting edge techniques designed to dramatically "kick start" your short game.

The program will be conducted by Ralph Bauer, Director of Player Development for the CJGA.

Program Overview:

- Information on reading greens for the advanced player including distance control
- Drills designed to assist in alignment of putter
- Drills designed to assist in hitting solid putts
- Very specific eye exercises designed by leading experts in the field of sport vision training and designed to dramatically improve your eyes ability to focus during your putting routine
- Development of a world class putting routine
- The proper use of the bounce on your wedges
- Distance control with wedges

Location & Date:

The Short Game School will take from 12 noon – 3:00PM on Sunday May 6th at Otter Creek Golf Club in London, Ontario.

Registration:

The cost of the program is $200 (plus HST) per person and will be limited to 4 students. The registration cost includes the take home training aids, and customized practice plans.

Registration forms are to be faxed or e-mailed in to CJGA Head Office. Applications will also be accepted over the phone. Click here for seminar application.

Testimonials:

"I have worked with Ralph for 7 years now his guidance on my golf game has proven to be invaluable- Ralph's methods are exactly what Junior Golfers need to reach the next level"-Matt Hill NCAA Champion, Jack Nicklaus Award Winner, Professional Golfer

“I started working with Ralph in 2009 and have seen my results improve immediately and I am looking forward to his support as my coach in the years to come-he is a very good instructor and coach and I would highly recommend his programs etc. to anyone serious about improvement”
David Hearn-PGA Tour Player